Landslide risk: Entry to the Hilltop prohibited

District Disaster Management Authority chairman and district collector PB Nooh said that pilgrims have been banned from entering the hilltop at Pampa in view of the possibility of landslides. Devotees would largely climb to the hilltop to see the Makara Vilakku clearly. This enhances the chance of landslides, the collector informed.

The ban was based on the reports of Pathanamthitta District Police Chief G Jayadev and Sabarimala Additional District Magistrate NSK Umesh.

He also demanded the Devaswom Board to urgently set up barricades to prevent pilgrims from entering the hilltop. Sabarimala Additional District Magistrate will coordinate all related activities.

Pampa suffered major damage following the flood in August 2018. The base camp at Pampa was immediately moved to Nilakkal based on the possibility of landslides in the area. Last year too, the pilgrims were banned from accessing the hilltop to see the Makara Vilakku due to landslides.
